FICTION

Lauryn Harper Falls Apart by Shauna Robinson

Lauryn Harper is the perfect employee. And according to her meticulous eight-year plan, she's just two promotions away from real happiness. Until a (perfectly innocent) mishap at work lands Lauryn in the one place she promised she'd never return: her hometown. The site of the once-famous apple festival

Midwives by Chris Bohjalian

On an icy winter night in an isolated house in rural Vermont, a seasoned midwife named Sibyl Danforth takes desperate measures to save a baby's life. She performs an emergency cesarean section on a mother she believes has died of stroke. But what if—as Sibyl's assistant later charges—the patient wasn't already dead? The ensuing trial bears the earmarks of a witch hunt, forcing Sibyl to face the antagonism of the law, the hostility of traditional doctors, and the accusations of her own conscience.

MYSTERY

The St. Zita Society by Ruth Rendell

Life for the residents and servants of Hexam Place appears placid and orderly on the outside: drivers take their employers to and from work, dogs are walked, flowers are planted in gardens, and Christmas candles lit uniformly in windows. But beneath this tranquil veneer, the upstairs-downstairs relationships are set to combust.

NON-FICTION

1929: Inside the Greatest Crash in Wall St. History by Andrew Sorkin

Written by the bestselling author of "Too Big to Fail: The definitive history of the 2008 banking crisis," comes a spellbinding narrative of the most infamous stock market crash in history. With the depth of a classic history and the drama of a thriller, 1929 unravels the greed, blind optimism, and folly that led to an era-defining collapse—one with ripple effects that still shape our society today.
