FICTION

Hollow Bones by Jodi Picoult

On September 11, 2001, when Molly Fitzgerald was only two months old, her mother went to an appointment at the World Trade Center and never came home. Her father and the stepmother who raised her couldn't have loved her more, but she still grew up with a healthy dread of disasters.

ETNA by Paul Yoon

Set in a fictional country in present day, this is a story told through the eyes of an ex-military dog, Etna. After surviving years of devastating war, Etna decides one night to leave the men he has alongside for years and return home—to the place where he was taken from when he was young, in the thin but persistent hope that if a home exists for him, it might be there. This is a novel about the power of an idea, about never giving up, and ultimately a novel about finding hope in the most dire of times.

LARGE PRINT MYSTERY

Killers of a Certain Age by Denna Raybourn

Older women often feel invisible, but sometimes that's their secret weapon. They've spent their lives as the deadliest assassins in a clandestine international organization, but now that they're sixty years old, four women friends can't just retire, it's kill or be killed in this action-packed thriller by New York Times bestselling and Edgar Award nominated author Denna Raybourn.
